

On June 8, Airline Ambassadors' Colombia President, Andres Valenzuela, signed a formal agreement for a partnership with the Inter-American Cultural & Development Foundation of the Inter-American Development Bank and with the Organization of American States.

From left to right: Secretary General Insulza, Organization of American States (OAS), Mrs. Peter McFarren, Co-Director of the Inter-American Cultural & Development Foundation (ICDF), Luis Alberto Moreno, President of the Inter-American Development Bank IDB), Andres Valenzuela, President of Airline Ambassadors Colombia (AAC) and Peter McFarren, President of the Inter-American Cultural & Development Foundation (ICDF).

Secretary General Insulza from the Organization of American States (OAS) introduces the innovative partnership inspired by the Inter-American Cultural & Development Foundation (ICDF) of the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB). The ICDF has identified the critical need to strengthen cultural development in South America and the Caribbean to promote the improvement of living conditions of people in those areas.

The integration of our American cultures can best be nurtured as we appreciate and experience our differences through travel and the support that comes with it.

